Ms. Stancil,

Thanks for your immediate response.

Latia will be attending both the meetings: EMI meeting in DC and HBCU Climate Change in New Orleans.

Latia was in my office for 3-4 hours until 6:30 PM. She completed the forms for HBCU Climate Change Conference, in New Orleans.

She had problems in completing registration since it was asking her to pay for registration. Since she has applied for travel award, we have to find out if registration is included in travel award or not.

In case you inform us about it, we will have to work from Virginia State University. This will take time since a PO has to be generated which takes 7 days.

She has submitted her abstract.

If you would help in clarification of the registration fee, please inform.

You may contact Latia today anytime after Noon.

Her telephone number is Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy She can receive text at this number to coordinate a suitable time for communication.

Thanks.

Good Morning

Thank you for Latia's information. I am sorry that I missed an opportunity yesterday to speak with you and Latia.

Clarification: Just to make sure I have it correct

1. Latia will present on "Food Deserts in Virginia" at the March 10, 2017 EMI Workshop here in DC.
2. Latia will present on "Water Quality in Hilo (Hawaii) Bay" at the EMI Workshop during the 2017 March 15-19, 2017-HBCU Climate Change Conference in New Orleans.

We look forward to meeting her.

Ms. Stancil,

I am sorry for the delay in responding to you.

Stacey, the first author is having trouble in coming to the conference

I am trying to get the other student who is part of the team. She is Latia Jackson

Latia will confirm about her coming after she gets permission to take her exam earlier, if her exams happen to be on Thursday/Friday

Please give me time until Friday afternoon to sort out this issue.

Thanks.

Good Morning

I heard yesterday that the EMI workshop here in DC will be Friday, March 10, 2017 from 9:30 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. I hope this makes it easier on the students. We had hoped they would be able to attend the entire National Environmental Justice Conference and Training Program (March 8-10), but totally understand their need to take finals and stay on course with their education. I presume they would travel Thursday evening and stay overnight.

I look forward to receiving their contact information and bios. Once we receive all this EPA will send out the formal acceptance letter and assign someone to work with them on travel and hotel accommodations.

Ms. Stancil,

Thanks for your e-mail informing me about the selection of abstract by Stacey and Millissa. It took time for me to get back since the students did not return til January 17, 2017 (after the break).

I also had to get Stacey who is other classes this semester.

Stacey i will inform me definite about the day when she will start from Richmond by Car. In case you pay for train, we wish to keep this an option ...due to unexpected Weather Condition in February.

Is it possible to coordinate the presentation of Stacey and Millissa on FRIDAY, March 10 since March 8-10 happens to be our Mid-Term Week. Stacey is trying to get approval from her professors about the exam date. This is another it took time for me to get back to you.

Please see that the presentation is on Friday, March 10.

Thanks.

Subject: Congratulations - your abstract selected for EMI workshop

Good Afternoon Dr. Sriharan:

I am delighted to inform you that the student abstract "Climate Change: An effect on the location of Food Markets and Community Gardens how it relates to the Food Deserts in Virginia" has been selected by the Federal Interagency Working Group on Environmental Justice's (IWG EJ) "Educate, Motivate and Innovate (EMI) Climate Justice Initiative" Sub-Committee for presentation during our March 2017 workshop. As you are aware, the EMI workshop is part of the 2017 National Environmental Justice Conference and Training Program (NEJC) to be held March 8-10, 2017 at the Washington Marriott at Metro Center here in Washington, DC. Please notify students Stacey Bradshaw and Millissa Knight that their abstract has been selected.

A formal letter of selection notification will be coming in the near future from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. We are waiting to hear back from the NEJC conference coordinator on the specific day and time slot for the EMI workshop. In the meantime, please tell the students to plan to attend the entire conference. Their transportation and hotel accommodations will be covered by the EPA and an EPA representative will work with them to make their accommodations. I presume they will travel by car. They should plan to arrive in DC in time to attend the conference beginning March 8 and return home on the 10th. I will let them work out the details with the EPA representative. However, please note that our budget is set for a total of three students and we have three abstracts selected for presentation – Stacey and Millissa may have to share a room.

You can find more information about the NEJC, information on the hotel, and a link to register for the conference at <http://thenejc.org/>. Registration is free; you all are encouraged to register immediately since spaces fill up quickly.

Let me know that you received this notice, that the students accept this opportunity, and if you have questions or need assistance. Also let me know that you all have registered for the conference. I will provide more information in the near future. Please send me their contact information including personal email address and phone number(s) so EPA can send them the formal notification letter and so that I may contact them if needed.

On behalf of the EMI team we look forward to meeting you, Stacey and Millissa in March. More information will follow as we get closer to the NEJC.

Sincerely,

Joanna
